

Nautilus Re-Brands Key Companies

On May 1, 2008, various key operating companies of Wilmington, Calif.-based Nautilus International Holding Corp. were re-branded as Metro Ports.

Those key companies include Metropolitan Stevedore Co., Southeast Crescent Shipping Co., Southeast Maritime Services LLC (which holds the Savannah International Terminal), and Cape Fear Bulk LLC.

“We are pleased to announce this re-branding as we also celebrate the 85th anniversary of Metropolitan Stevedore Co.,” said Nautilus CEO James Callahan. “Coordinating with the nationally recognized ‘Metro’ name, the utilization of Metro Ports in the branding of certain diversified and growing holdings of Nautilus highlights the rich experience and history of the Nautilus group, which has business roots dating back to the formation of California Stevedore & Ballast Co. in 1852 in San Francisco during the California Gold Rush.”

The companies of Nautilus International Holding Corp. excel in providing outstanding services to various segments of the shipping community. Additional information may be found at www.nautilusintl.com.
